

Where Did I Go Wrong - UB40 www.muffin.net.nz

Intro

Verses

*I'm sitting here praying, that you weren't just saying. Leaving tomorrow was what you had planned
I thought you had saved me the love that you gave me the sweetest loving in all of the land
There's nothing worth saying I know you're not staying. Might as well face it it's out of my hands*

*No point in pretending, I know that it's ending I just wanna know where the ending began
But you've taken my heart and you've torn it apart and it's crumbled to dust in the palm of your hand
No point in pretending I know that it's ending I just wanna know where the ending began*

Chorus

Where did I go wrong to make it like this? No warmth in your body no touch in your kiss

Holding you now hurts more than it should. If I let you go girl you'll be gone for good
